

Investors Overview

Fully-integrated oil and natural gas company, specializing in owning and operating a fleet of tankers moving crude oil, distillate's, and refined products.

Strategic plans, investments, and complete and pending acquisitions, to emerge as vertically-aligned, international oil refining and trading operation.

Diversified assets and revenues stream reflecting increased profitability to 13.14 percent from prior year's 3.82 percent

Robust global economic growth shoring up crude oil and gas prices, with prediction that crude oil may surge more than 25 percent in the next year (<http://nnw.fm/i9YTf>)

Global LNG consumption in 2017 reflected a robust 8.8% growth from the prior year, and projected 3.8% average annual growth until 2010 will push demand (<http://nnw.fm/TsOb8>).

In 2035, global energy demand is projected to be more than 30% higher than in 2010. While oil and gas will still play a key role in meeting demand, several major technical, economic, societal and environmental challenges will have to be overcome for their continued use.

Plans include moving deeper into growing international markets, purchase of additional tankers vessels, and development and operation of natural gas production and transmission facilities, LNG processing in the US, refinery operations in north and West Africa, and marketing/transport
